PACIFIC COAST.

Decision in an Important Land Case.

Judge Terry and His Althes Indicted at San Francisco.

The Judge's Wife Threatens Vengeance When She Gets Out.

Bazier and other spirits at the Country Fair—Harpis—Dr. of a Mining Superintendent—In Arizona—Suicide at Portland, Or.—Cost Notes.

By Telegram to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—[By the Associated Press.] The United States Land Office at Sacramento rendered a decision today in the case of James Galloway, a homestead applicant, against the Sacramento and Amador Canal Company. The latter, in 1878, filed a mineral application on certain lands in Northern California, and in November, 1881, Galloway filed homestead applications on lands covering part of their entry. He alleges that they were of non-mineral or of an agricultural character. When the error in allowing the filing of the homestead application was discovered the parties were given a hearing, at which Galloway based his claims upon the injunctions against hydraulic mining issued from time to time by the court, and said as the land could not be worked by this method it was worthless as mineral land, and therefore subject to its entry. The Surveyor-General, however, decided the lands were mineral, except one-tenth of a section, and the Register and Receiver of the land office further decided that no weight can attach to arguments based on the injunctions made against hydraulic mining, as other processes may be discovered whereby minerals may be mined from such lands. They therefore ordered Galloway's application cancelled, and that final entry and patent be allowed the respondents.

THE TERRIBLES.

The Pair Indicted—Sarah Althes Threatens Vengeance.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—[By the Associated Press.] About 3 p.m. the United States Grand Jury reported to the District Court four indictments against ex-Judge David Terry and two against Mrs. Sarah Terry.

The indictments are based upon the recent outbreak in the Circuit Court room during the reading of the decision in the Sharon case by Justice Field, and the parties are charged with threatening and assaulting the Marshal and his deputies.

Judge Terry said tonight: "I don't see how the Grand Jury found four indictments. They must have drunk at least two for the same offense. I would be willing to go before Judge Hoffman at once, and stand trial on the charge without a jury."

Mrs. Terry said: "Someone will hear from me when I get out."

BURIED ALIVE.

A Mining Superintendent Killed by a Cave-in.

NOGALES (Ariz.), Sept. 20.—[By the Associated Press.] Further particulars of the disaster at the San Gerónimo mine, Sonora, on Monday, state that Superintendent Mello was killed outright. His death did not result from a cave of the mine as at first supposed, but by a cave-in of the ground beneath the office. Mello had just gone into the office to arrange for paying off the employees. The men were standing about on the outside of the office, when the ground suddenly gave way and precipitated the office and superintendent into the old workings, several hundred feet below the surface. The employees all managed to escape, but a considerable number of the men were killed.

MAY BERRY.

A Model Landlady and an Orderly Woman.

The case of May Berry, alias Myrtle McDonald, charged with keeping a disorderly house at No. 46 Buena Vista street, came up for trial before Justice King at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Considerable interest has been felt in this case from the fact that it has been freely reported on the streets that it would never come to trial, and also because several more or less prominent men have tried to induce Justice King to dismiss the proceedings. In view of these facts, there was a somewhat larger crowd than usual in attendance, and the little courtroom was crowded to its utmost capacity. The people were represented by Assistant District Attorney Dunlap and the defense by Senator E. F. Wooten, Jr. and Mr. Kendrick. The first witness was Chief of Police Cuddy, who testified that he had received several complaints from residents in the neighborhood about the bad character of the house at No. 46 Buena Vista street, kept by the defendant, and that, acting on these complaints, he had caused her arrest. F. W. Wooten, Jr., then called the attention of the jury to the fact that the owner of the property, said that there had been complaints about the house, which had been made by the defendant, and that the people at this point testified, when Mr. De Groot, one of the roomers in the house, testified that he had never heard any noise, or seen anything out of the way about the place during the time he had been there. A Mr. Englander, an artist, and his wife, also testified that they considered the house a highly respectable one, and that they had never heard any noise, or seen anything out of the way about the place during the time he had been there. A Mr. Englander, an artist, and his wife, also testified that they considered the house a highly respectable one, and that they had never heard any noise, or seen anything out of the way about the place during the time he had been there.

IN CAMP.

How the Boys Waked the Morning Schoes.

When the Patriarch Militant marched back to camp at midnight, night before last after their grand drill, they probably felt pretty tired, and most of them soon sought the shelter of their little white tents. But not all did so, and the mischief in the little remnant soon leavened the whole camp. Starting with an impromptu suggestion from somebody, they began the evening and morning shoes. The Patriarch Militant, who was the first to start, was followed by a little snowball in rolled into a big one, so the awakened sleepers joined the unalloyed fun with still greater zest. They threw themselves upon those who still remained undisturbed. Soon the whole camp was up and doing, and rushing about in their own waked shoes with their own big hogs and drums.

A LOST BROTHER.

Gone from Home Five or Six Days and No Word from Him.

A man who was chuck full of excitement and boiling over with a long story about a lost brother rushed into the Sheriff's office yesterday afternoon. He took a seat on Mr. Kay's desk and, much to the astonishment of that usually quiet, good-natured official, he pushed aside with a wild, he was never known to drink and has no bad habits that would keep him away from home over night.

COLUMBUS CHOSEN AS THE NEXT PLACE OF MEETING.

A Frolic in Camp That Lasted from Midnight to Sunrise—Award of Prizes and Decorations—Excursion to Monrovia and Santa Monica.

Yesterday morning the Sovereign Grand Lodge reassembled at 9 o'clock in Turner Hall.

After attending to a good deal of routine business a motion to take a recess from 1 to 3 p.m. during the rest of the session was put and carried.

Representative Hedges moved that the Grand Lodge proceed to fix the place of the meeting of the next annual grand body in 1890.

In consideration that a home has been built in Columbus, O., for the Grand Lodge, it was decided to meet at that place.

During the forenoon the Grand Lodge read a letter from the secretary of the Citizens' Committee, inviting the members of the Grand Lodge and their lady friends to go to a carriage drive at 5 p.m. The invitation was accepted, and the members of the various committees were then received.

At 1 o'clock the lodge adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

IN CAMP.

How the Boys Waked the Morning Schoes.

When the Patriarch Militant marched back to camp at midnight, night before last after their grand drill, they probably felt pretty tired, and most of them soon sought the shelter of their little white tents. But not all did so, and the mischief in the little remnant soon leavened the whole camp. Starting with an impromptu suggestion from somebody, they began the evening and morning shoes. The Patriarch Militant, who was the first to start, was followed by a little snowball in rolled into a big one, so the awakened sleepers joined the unalloyed fun with still greater zest. They threw themselves upon those who still remained undisturbed. Soon the whole camp was up and doing, and rushing about in their own waked shoes with their own big hogs and drums.

A LOST BROTHER.

Gone from Home Five or Six Days and No Word from Him.

A man who was chuck full of excitement and boiling over with a long story about a lost brother rushed into the Sheriff's office yesterday afternoon. He took a seat on Mr. Kay's desk and, much to the astonishment of that usually quiet, good-natured official, he pushed aside with a wild, he was never known to drink and has no bad habits that would keep him away from home over night.
